Personal Preferences & Aversions

1. What are three non-negotiable values you live by in a relationship?
2. What small, everyday gestures make you feel most loved?
3. What's one thing you wish your partner understood better about you?
4. Are there any behaviors or habits—however minor—that instantly turn you off?
5. What's your love language, and how well do you think your partner speaks it?
6. How do you prefer to resolve conflicts—fast and direct, or with space and time?
7. What's a personal boundary that you would never compromise on, even for love?
8. What types of affection do you find most natural to give?
9. Is there a way you prefer to receive apologies?
10. Are there topics you wish your partner would bring up more often?

Aspirations & Long-Term Goals

11. Where do you see yourself in five years—personally and professionally—and how does your partner fit into that vision?
12. What kind of lifestyle do you ultimately want to have together?
13. What's your ideal pace for deepening a commitment (moving in, engagement, marriage, etc.)?
14. What's something you dream of experiencing with your partner that you haven't yet?
15. How do you want to handle financial decisions as a couple in the future?
16. Do you envision having children or building a family together in any form?
17. If life forced a big change—like moving to another city—how do you think you'd adapt as a couple?
18. How important is shared ambition to you in a relationship?
19. What are three major personal goals you'd like your partner to support?
20. How do you see your roles evolving as the relationship matures?

Compatibility & Current Dynamics

21. What's a strength you think your partner brings out in you?
22. What's an area where you feel you balance each other well?
23. Are there topics where you always seem to be in sync?
24. Where do you tend to have recurring disagreements?
25. Do you feel the relationship is more balanced or more one-sided at the moment?
26. How well do you think you communicate during stressful moments?
27. Do you feel emotionally safe with your partner?
28. Do you share enough mutual interests to keep things exciting long term?
29. How do you typically celebrate each other's successes?
30. When was the last time you felt genuinely inspired by your partner?

Attraction, Excitement & Emotional Pull

31. What first drew you to your partner—and does that still excite you now?

32. What's something new your partner has done recently that made you feel attracted to them?
33. Are there experiences or activities that reignite your passion for them?
34. How important is physical intimacy to your overall connection?
35. Do you feel your partner still makes an effort to impress you?
36. Is there a type of adventure or surprise you'd love them to plan for you?
37. When do you feel most connected—quiet moments, shared experiences, or intense conversations?
38. What compliments from your partner feel most genuine to you?
39. Are there ways they could flirt with you more effectively?
40. If your relationship had a "signature feeling," what would it be?

5 Deep, Open-Ended Written Response Questions

(These are designed to pull out rich, reflective answers and spark real insight.)

1. Describe a moment in your relationship that made you feel completely seen and understood. What happened, and why did it resonate with you?
2. If your relationship were a story, what chapter would you say you're in right now—and what title would you give it?
3. Think about the future you want with your partner. What are three key experiences or milestones you'd like to create together, and why are they significant to you?
4. When challenges arise between you and your partner, how do they impact your sense of trust—and what does it take for you to fully restore it?
5. What's the one thing you wish your partner knew—not just about your needs, but about the way you love them—that you've never been able to fully express?

Personal Preferences & Aversions

1. How do you most like to spend your free time when your partner is also free?
2. Which shared activities with your partner make you feel most connected?
3. What small habits of your partner do you find most endearing?
4. What recurring behaviors from your partner irritate you the most?
5. How do you prefer to receive affection — verbally, physically, or through actions?
6. Which form of apology feels most genuine to you?
7. Do you feel your partner understands your stress triggers?
8. How comfortable are you with your partner's friendships outside the relationship?
9. How much alone time do you need in a typical week to feel balanced?
10. Which personal boundaries do you feel your partner respects the most — and the least?

Aspirations & Shared Goals

11. How aligned do you feel your life goals are with your partner's?
12. Where do you see your relationship in five years?
13. How important is marriage (or an equivalent commitment) to you?
14. Do you envision raising children together, and if so, what's your parenting style?

15. How do you feel about blending finances in the future?
16. What role do shared hobbies or projects play in your vision of the future?
17. How important is geographic stability versus flexibility for your ideal life together?
18. How much does career ambition influence your vision for the relationship?
19. If a major opportunity arose for your partner that disrupted your current life, how would you react?
20. What would make you feel that you're both "growing together" rather than growing apart?

Compatibility & Daily Functioning

21. How well do you think you and your partner handle household responsibilities?
22. When conflict arises, how quickly do you both usually resolve it?
23. Which of your partner's traits best complement your own?
24. Where do you notice recurring disagreements that never fully resolve?
25. How well do you think your partner listens when you share something important?
26. Do you feel emotionally safe to share your fears with your partner?
27. How often do you feel you're "on the same team" when dealing with challenges?
28. How well do you think your partner reads your moods without you speaking?
29. What's the most effective way your partner helps you when you're upset?
30. Which of your strengths do you think your partner most benefits from?

Attraction, Excitement & Emotional Pull

31. What initially drew you to your partner, and does it still hold the same weight?
32. When do you feel the most physically attracted to your partner?
33. What new thing has your partner done recently that made you appreciate them more?
34. How important is sexual compatibility to your overall relationship satisfaction?
35. Are there experiences you wish you and your partner explored more often?
36. Do you feel your partner still makes an effort to surprise or excite you?
37. How do you prefer to rekindle connection after a period of distance?
38. What compliments from your partner feel the most sincere?
39. In what ways could your partner flirt with you more effectively?
40. If you had to describe your relationship's "emotional signature" in one sentence, what would it be?

---

5 Deep, Open-Ended Questions

.)

1. Describe the last time you felt completely understood by your partner. What happened in that moment, and why did it matter to you?
2. Think of a recent disagreement. What do you believe your partner was truly trying to communicate beneath their words or actions?

3. If you could change one repeating dynamic in your relationship, what would it be, and how do you think it would affect your connection?
4. Looking ahead, what three milestones would make you feel your relationship was evolving in the right direction — and why are they meaningful to you?
5. Imagine your relationship five years from now. What is the one thing you hope never changes, no matter how much else does?

Personal Preferences & Aversions

1. How do you prefer physical affection to be expressed in public versus in private?
2. What small gestures from your partner make you feel most desired?
3. Which of your partner's habits in the bedroom do you most appreciate?
4. What behaviors — inside or outside the bedroom — turn you off quickly?
5. How do you feel about initiating intimacy, and how often do you prefer to do it?
6. Which forms of non-sexual touch make you feel closest to your partner?
7. Are there sexual activities you wish you explored together more often?
8. Are there activities or fantasies you consider off-limits, and have you communicated them clearly?
9. How comfortable are you discussing your changing desires with your partner?
10. What's your preferred pace for physical intimacy after a conflict?

Aspirations & Shared Goals

11. Do you envision your relationship always remaining monogamous? Why or why not?
12. How important is sexual exclusivity to your sense of security in the relationship?
13. Where do intimacy and physical connection rank among your relationship priorities?
14. What's your vision for keeping passion alive over the next five years?
15. How do you see sexual compatibility influencing your long-term happiness together?
16. If one partner's sexual needs changed significantly, how should the relationship adapt?
17. What kind of emotional environment helps you feel most open to intimacy?
18. How do you imagine navigating periods when physical intimacy is less frequent?
19. How much transparency do you expect around private interactions with others?
20. If you ever felt a loss of attraction, what steps would you want to take first?

Compatibility & Daily Functioning

21. How aligned are your and your partner's definitions of "cheating"?
22. How well do you think your partner understands your sexual boundaries?
23. Are there recurring disagreements about how often you have sex?
24. How well do you think you and your partner handle mismatched moods for intimacy?
25. How often do you talk about sex outside of the act itself?
26. When your partner is affectionate, do you usually feel it's genuine?
27. Are you comfortable expressing when you're not in the mood, without guilt?
28. Do you and your partner share similar views on pornography, sexting, or erotic media?
29. How well do you think your partner respects your need for privacy?
30. Are your comfort levels with physical closeness in public the same or different?

Attraction, Excitement & Emotional Pull

31. When do you feel most physically attracted to your partner?
32. How important is sexual novelty in your relationship?
33. Do you feel your partner still makes an effort to be physically appealing to you?
34. How do you prefer to explore new sexual experiences — planned or spontaneous?
35. How often do you fantasize about your partner when you're apart?
36. What role does flirting play in keeping your attraction alive?
37. Do you feel your partner communicates their desire for you clearly?
38. If attraction fades temporarily, what's the best way to rekindle it?
39. Are there ways your partner could flirt with you more effectively?
40. If your relationship had a "signature" sexual or intimate vibe, what would it be?

---

5 Deep, Open-Ended Questions (Revised for Intimacy, Sexual Attraction, Monogamy & Boundaries)

1. Describe the moment in your relationship when you felt the strongest physical and emotional connection. What made it so powerful for you?
2. If you could change one aspect of your sexual or physical connection with your partner, what would it be, and how would that change impact your bond?
3. What does monogamy mean to you in practical, everyday terms, and how do you expect it to be honored in this relationship?
4. When you think about boundaries — emotional, sexual, and personal — which ones feel most important to you, and have they ever been tested?
5. Imagine your ideal intimate life together in five years. What's happening between you that ensures you still feel desired, safe, and deeply connected?

Agreements: Monogamy & Definitions (7)

1. How do you define monogamy in this relationship?
   ☐ Sexual & romantic exclusivity ☐ Sexual exclusivity, outside crushes OK ☐ "Monogamish" with explicit rules ☐ Open with negotiated boundaries ☐ Polyamorous structure ☐ Unsure/undiscussed
2. What counts as a breach? (check all that apply)
   ☐ Sexting ☐ Porn use ☐ Private 1:1 dinners ☐ Kissing ☐ Emotional confiding about the relationship ☐ Dating apps "just browsing" ☐ None of the above if disclosed
3. Status of our agreement right now:
   ☐ Explicitly defined in writing ☐ Discussed verbally & clear ☐ Discussed but fuzzy ☐ Never truly defined

4. Disclosure preference for boundary-pushing situations:
   ☐ Tell me before ☐ Tell me after ☐ Only if it changes risk ☐ Never — it's private
5. If one of us wants to change the agreement, the first step should be:
   ☐ Bring it to a scheduled talk ☐ Write feelings first ☐ In therapy/moderated chat ☐ Try a trial period ☐ I don't think agreements should change
6. Deal-breaker intensity (0–5): A breach of the current agreement would end the relationship. (scale)
7. Repair viability (0–5): If a boundary is crossed, I'm open to negotiated repair rather than immediate exit. (reverse-coded)

B. Boundaries & Consent (7)

8. My consent style: I prefer explicit verbal check-ins vs reading the room. (choose one)
9. Green-light physical affection in public:
   ☐ None ☐ Hand-holding / light touch ☐ Quick kisses ☐ Openly affectionate
10. Private boundary lines (check all that apply):
    ☐ No sexual talk during conflict ☐ No surprise guests at home ☐ No phone access without ask ☐ No sharing intimate details with friends ☐ Other: _____
11. Yes/No/Maybe inventory exists between us:
    ☐ Yes and up to date ☐ Yes but stale ☐ No but I want one ☐ No and I don't want one
12. Safe-word / pause-word in intimacy:
    ☐ In place & used ☐ Discussed, not used ☐ Not established
13. I feel safe to say "not now" without fallout. (0–5)
14. My partner respects cooling-off requests before physical intimacy. (0–5)

C. Intimacy & Desire (8)

15. Initiation balance feels…
    ☐ Mostly me ☐ Mostly them ☐ About even ☐ Neither initiates reliably
16. Ideal frequency vs current reality:
    a) Ideal: ☐ Daily ☐ Few/week ☐ Weekly ☐ Variable
    b) Current: ☐ Daily ☐ Few/week ☐ Weekly ☐ Variable
    Flag if mismatched by ≥2 steps.
17. Aftercare importance:
    ☐ Essential ☐ Nice to have ☐ Neutral ☐ Prefer space
18. Talking fantasies feels…
    ☐ Easy ☐ Possible with warm-up ☐ Rare ☐ Uncomfortable/off-limits
19. Novelty appetite:
    ☐ High — I crave exploration ☐ Moderate — occasional newness ☐ Low — I prefer familiar ☐ Context-dependent

20. Porn/erotic media stance (for self/for us):
    ☐ Comfortable solo & together ☐ Solo only ☐ Together only ☐ Prefer to avoid ☐ Needs convo/limits
21. Rejection impact: When I'm turned down, I usually feel…
    ☐ Totally fine ☐ Disappointed but okay ☐ Unwanted ☐ Angry/resentful
    Flag "Unwanted" or "Angry" + low communication score.
22. Desire boosters that work for me (pick top 3):
    ☐ Quality time ☐ Compliments/flirting ☐ Acts of service ☐ Planned date ☐ Surprise ☐ Physical touch outside sex ☐ Emotional check-in ☐ Playfulness

---

D. Attraction & Aversions (5)

23. Current attraction level to my partner: (0–5)
24. Behaviors that heighten my attraction (top 2):
    ☐ Confidence ☐ Humor ☐ Reliability ☐ Initiative ☐ Style/grooming ☐ Affection in public ☐ Caretaking energy
25. Immediate turn-offs (top 2):
    ☐ Poor hygiene ☐ Dismissive tone ☐ Inconsistency ☐ Clinginess ☐ Tit-for-tat ☐ Broken privacy
26. Flirting cadence I want from my partner:
    ☐ Daily ☐ A few times/week ☐ Weekly ☐ Only in person ☐ Rare/keep it private
27. I still feel actively pursued by my partner. (0–5)

E. Communication Around Sex & Boundaries (5)

28. We talk about sex…
    ☐ Proactively ☐ Only after issues ☐ Almost never
29. I can bring up a boundary without my partner becoming defensive. (0–5)
30. When stress is high, we protect intimacy (non-sexual closeness) on purpose. (0–5)
31. If desire mismatches, our go-to plan is…
    ☐ Non-sexual closeness first ☐ Scheduled intimacy ☐ Solo outlets discussed ☐ Avoid topic
32. If we had to revisit our agreement, I would feel…
    ☐ Safe/curious ☐ Cautious but willing ☐ Threatened ☐ Opposed

---

Scenarios (write ≥200 chars; timer encouraged) — 6 items

S1. Boundary nudge: A close friend flirts with you at a party. Walk me through what you do in the moment and what you disclose to your partner afterward — and why.

S2. Agreement stress-test: You find your partner's old dating-app account active "for browsing." Draft your first message that honors your feelings, names the agreement, and requests a next step.

S3. Desire mismatch night: You're exhausted; your partner is eager. Describe how you keep connection intact while holding your boundary.

S4. Novelty request: Your partner proposes something outside your comfort zone. Show how you explore consent, set limits, and offer an alternative that still nurtures desire.

S5. Repair after a breach: A minor but real line was crossed (e.g., flirty DMs). Outline a repair plan: acknowledgment, amends, boundary tightening, and a check-in cadence.

S6. Monogamy re-negotiation: You're considering shifting the agreement. Write the opening 10 lines you'd bring to a moderated conversation to keep safety and clarity front and center.

Depth Prompts (for long-form reflection & your airlock)

1. Define "us at our best" intimately. What are the repeatable ingredients — emotional and practical — that make desire feel safe and alive?
2. Name your non-negotiables around fidelity, disclosure, and privacy — and why each one protects your dignity.
3. Tell the story of a "no" you wish you'd said sooner. What would have changed if you'd voiced it in time?
4. If attraction dips, what two rituals would help you rebuild it without pressure or performance?
5. Five-year vow (your words): Write a brief vow about how you'll protect intimacy, honor boundaries, and keep pursuing one another — even when life gets loud.

Organized Relationship Questions: Categories & Summary

Duplicates Removed, Grouped by Theme

1. Personal Preferences & Aversions

- What are three non-negotiable values you live by in a relationship?
- What small, everyday gestures make you feel most loved?
- What's one thing you wish your partner understood better about you?

- Are there any behaviors or habits—however minor—that instantly turn you off?
- What's your love language, and how well do you think your partner speaks it?
- How do you prefer to resolve conflicts—fast and direct, or with space and time?
- What's a personal boundary that you would never compromise on, even for love?
- What types of affection do you find most natural to give?
- Is there a way you prefer to receive apologies?
- Are there topics you wish your partner would bring up more often?
- How do you most like to spend your free time when your partner is also free?
- Which shared activities with your partner make you feel most connected?
- What small habits of your partner do you find most endearing?
- What recurring behaviors from your partner irritate you the most?
- How do you prefer to receive affection — verbally, physically, or through actions?
- Which form of apology feels most genuine to you?
- Do you feel your partner understands your stress triggers?
- How comfortable are you with your partner's friendships outside the relationship?
- How much alone time do you need in a typical week to feel balanced?
- Which personal boundaries do you feel your partner respects the most — and the least?
- How do you prefer physical affection to be expressed in public versus in private?
- What small gestures from your partner make you feel most desired?
- Which of your partner's habits in the bedroom do you most appreciate?
- What behaviors — inside or outside the bedroom — turn you off quickly?
- How do you feel about initiating intimacy, and how often do you prefer to do it?
- Which forms of non-sexual touch make you feel closest to your partner?
- Are there sexual activities you wish you explored together more often?
- Are there activities or fantasies you consider off-limits, and have you communicated them clearly?
- How comfortable are you discussing your changing desires with your partner?
- What's your preferred pace for physical intimacy after a conflict?

2. Aspirations & Long-Term Goals

- Where do you see yourself in five years—personally and professionally—and how does your partner fit into that vision?
- What kind of lifestyle do you ultimately want to have together?

- What's your ideal pace for deepening a commitment (moving in, engagement, marriage, etc.)?
- What's something you dream of experiencing with your partner that you haven't yet?
- How do you want to handle financial decisions as a couple in the future?
- Do you envision having children or building a family together in any form?
- If life forced a big change—like moving to another city—how do you think you'd adapt as a couple?
- How important is shared ambition to you in a relationship?
- What are three major personal goals you'd like your partner to support?
- How do you see your roles evolving as the relationship matures?
- How aligned do you feel your life goals are with your partner's?
- Where do you see your relationship in five years?
- How important is marriage (or an equivalent commitment) to you?
- Do you envision raising children together, and if so, what's your parenting style?
- How do you feel about blending finances in the future?
- What role do shared hobbies or projects play in your vision of the future?
- How important is geographic stability versus flexibility for your ideal life together?
- How much does career ambition influence your vision for the relationship?
- If a major opportunity arose for your partner that disrupted your current life, how would you react?
- What would make you feel that you're both "growing together" rather than growing apart?
- Do you envision your relationship always remaining monogamous? Why or why not?
- How important is sexual exclusivity to your sense of security in the relationship?
- Where do intimacy and physical connection rank among your relationship priorities?
- What's your vision for keeping passion alive over the next five years?
- How do you see sexual compatibility influencing your long-term happiness together?
- If one partner's sexual needs changed significantly, how should the relationship adapt?
- What kind of emotional environment helps you feel most open to intimacy?
- How do you imagine navigating periods when physical intimacy is less frequent?
- How much transparency do you expect around private interactions with others?
- If you ever felt a loss of attraction, what steps would you want to take first?

3. Compatibility & Current Dynamics

- What's a strength you think your partner brings out in you?
- What's an area where you feel you balance each other well?
- Are there topics where you always seem to be in sync?
- Where do you tend to have recurring disagreements?
- Do you feel the relationship is more balanced or more one-sided at the moment?
- How well do you think you communicate during stressful moments?
- Do you feel emotionally safe with your partner?
- Do you share enough mutual interests to keep things exciting long term?
- How do you typically celebrate each other's successes?
- When was the last time you felt genuinely inspired by your partner?
- How well do you think you and your partner handle household responsibilities?
- When conflict arises, how quickly do you both usually resolve it?
- Which of your partner's traits best complement your own?
- Where do you notice recurring disagreements that never fully resolve?
- How well do you think your partner listens when you share something important?
- How often do you feel you're "on the same team" when dealing with challenges?
- How well do you think your partner reads your moods without you speaking?
- What's the most effective way your partner helps you when you're upset?
- Which of your strengths do you think your partner most benefits from?
- How aligned are your and your partner's definitions of "cheating"?
- How well do you think your partner understands your sexual boundaries?
- Are there recurring disagreements about how often you have sex?
- How well do you think you and your partner handle mismatched moods for intimacy?
- How often do you talk about sex outside of the act itself?
- When your partner is affectionate, do you usually feel it's genuine?
- Are you comfortable expressing when you're not in the mood, without guilt?
- Do you and your partner share similar views on pornography, sexting, or erotic media?
- How well do you think your partner respects your need for privacy?
- Are your comfort levels with physical closeness in public the same or different?

4. Attraction, Excitement & Emotional Pull

- What first drew you to your partner—and does that still excite you now?

- What's something new your partner has done recently that made you feel attracted to them?
- Are there experiences or activities that reignite your passion for them?
- How important is physical intimacy to your overall connection?
- Do you feel your partner still makes an effort to impress you?
- Is there a type of adventure or surprise you'd love them to plan for you?
- When do you feel most connected—quiet moments, shared experiences, or intense conversations?
- What compliments from your partner feel most genuine to you?
- Are there ways they could flirt with you more effectively?
- If your relationship had a "signature feeling," what would it be?
- What initially drew you to your partner, and does it still hold the same weight?
- When do you feel the most physically attracted to your partner?
- What new thing has your partner done recently that made you appreciate them more?
- How important is sexual compatibility to your overall relationship satisfaction?
- Are there experiences you wish you and your partner explored more often?
- Do you feel your partner still makes an effort to surprise or excite you?
- How do you prefer to rekindle connection after a period of distance?
- What compliments from your partner feel the most sincere?
- In what ways could your partner flirt with you more effectively?
- If you had to describe your relationship's "emotional signature" in one sentence, what would it be?
- When do you feel most physically attracted to your partner?
- How important is sexual novelty in your relationship?
- Do you feel your partner still makes an effort to be physically appealing to you?
- How do you prefer to explore new sexual experiences — planned or spontaneous?
- How often do you fantasize about your partner when you're apart?
- What role does flirting play in keeping your attraction alive?
- Do you feel your partner communicates their desire for you clearly?
- If attraction fades temporarily, what's the best way to rekindle it?
- Are there ways your partner could flirt with you more effectively?
- If your relationship had a "signature" sexual or intimate vibe, what would it be?

5. Deep, Open-Ended Written Response Questions

- Describe a moment in your relationship that made you feel completely seen and understood. What happened, and why did it resonate with you?
- If your relationship were a story, what chapter would you say you're in right now—and what title would you give it?
- Think about the future you want with your partner. What are three key experiences or milestones you'd like to create together, and why are they significant to you?
- When challenges arise between you and your partner, how do they impact your sense of trust—and what does it take for you to fully restore it?
- What's the one thing you wish your partner knew—not just about your needs, but about the way you love them—that you've never been able to fully express?
- Describe the last time you felt completely understood by your partner. What happened in that moment, and why did it matter to you?
- Think of a recent disagreement. What do you believe your partner was truly trying to communicate beneath their words or actions?
- If you could change one repeating dynamic in your relationship, what would it be, and how do you think it would affect your connection?
- Looking ahead, what three milestones would make you feel your relationship was evolving in the right direction — and why are they meaningful to you?
- Imagine your relationship five years from now. What is the one thing you hope never changes, no matter how much else does?
- Describe the moment in your relationship when you felt the strongest physical and emotional connection. What made it so powerful for you?
- If you could change one aspect of your sexual or physical connection with your partner, what would it be, and how would that change impact your bond?
- What does monogamy mean to you in practical, everyday terms, and how do you expect it to be honored in this relationship?
- When you think about boundaries — emotional, sexual, and personal — which ones feel most important to you, and have they ever been tested?
- Imagine your ideal intimate life together in five years. What's happening between you that ensures you still feel desired, safe, and deeply connected?

6. Agreements: Monogamy & Definitions

- How do you define monogamy in this relationship?
- What counts as a breach?

- Status of our agreement right now:
- Disclosure preference for boundary-pushing situations:
- If one of us wants to change the agreement, the first step should be:
- Deal-breaker intensity (0–5): A breach of the current agreement would end the relationship.
- Repair viability (0–5): If a boundary is crossed, I'm open to negotiated repair rather than immediate exit.

7. Boundaries & Consent

- My consent style: I prefer explicit verbal check-ins vs reading the room.
- Green-light physical affection in public:
- Private boundary lines: